The War.

Lord Roberts Leaves Next Month.

KROGER ADVISED TO BE MODERATE.

The Boers Still Active.

Public Reception to Kruger at Marseilles.

Winnipeg, Oct. 26, '00.

Lord Roberts will leave South Africa for England about the middle of November. The people of Cape Town gave Gen. Buller a luncheon and his address in reply referred in complimentary terms to the colonials' fighting qualities.

The first contingent men returning on the Idahs will be paid off at Halifax.

It is stated Kruger will be first taken to Algiers.

The Netherlands has submitted despatches exchanged with Kruger in which he was counselled to be moderate towards Britain.

London, Oct. 25: The Boers are showing great activity at Heidelberg, Bethel and Lydenburg. Gen. French on the march from Bethel to Heidelberg is having constant encounters with Boers.

London, Oct. 25: The war office announced that Lord Roberts hopes to leave South Africa for home about November 15 and that Gen. Lord Wolseley has consented to continue to perform the duties of commander in chief of the army until the end of November.

Marseilles, Oct. 25th: Preparations are afoot for a great demonstration in honor of Paul Kruger upon his arrival here. The reception is in the hands of a private committee. The mayor of Marseilles has refused to join in the preparations on the ground that it might cause diplomatic difficulties.

London, Oct. 25: Winston Spencer Churchill speaking this evening at a banquet by the Pall Mall club, attacked Lord Roberts for "slandering English officers" in the accounts sent to the newspapers from South Africa. He went so far as to give the lie direct to some of Lord Roberts' statements.

Strikers attacked members of the Fifth Royal Scots at Valleyfield, Que., injuring eight, two probably fatally.

The Emperor of Germany delivered a speech advocating permanent peace, at the dedication of the hall of fame, Montreal, Quebec, Oct. 25.—Two companies of the Royal Scots were ordered out this morning for duty at Valleyfield in connection with a strike of the cotton mill labourers.

and left for that place this afternoon by special train in command of Col. Ibbotson. They were sent at the request of the mayor and justices of the peace. Each man was armed with a rifle and bayonet and forty rounds of ammunition. The situation at Valleyfield is very serious to-night. The town seems to be in the hands of a mob and the situation has become so threatening that a message was sent to Montreal asking for the dispatch of more soldiers.

The arrival of the first detachment of the militia from Montreal this afternoon appears to have infuriated the strikers and a big mob of them gathered outside the mills, and started in to smash the windows. The Royal Scots under command of Col. Ibbotson charged the strikers with the bayonets. The mob retreated and the militia several of the soldiers and a number of the strikers were injured. It is feared that several of the soldiers have been fatally injured and the militia will set the mills on fire and grave trouble is expected. In response to the demand for soldiers which was received here about 11 o'clock an urgent requisition was sent out and arrangements have been made to dispatch several hundred men by special train about midnight to the scene of the trouble.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, OCT. 26th, 1906

TWO QUESTIONS OF INDEPENDENCE.

One of Mr. Bennett's favorite arguments for support as against Frank Oliver is that Mr. Oliver is no longer an independent. Who gave Mr. Bennett any one else authority to speak for Mr. Oliver on this point? If Mr. Oliver is not an independent and Mr. Bennett is entitled to the support on that account Mr. Bennett must be an independent, else he is no more entitled to support than Mr. Oliver. But the conservative candidates state on the platform here that "an independent did not stand in the Canadian parliament" and that there was no room in Canadian politics for independents. Evidently, therefore, he cannot be an independent, or if he is "there is no room for him." Again, at the meeting here, when cornered on this point by Mr. Oliver, who stated that he was glad to hear Mr. Bennett define his position, and to know that he was not an independent, but intended to give thorough partisan support to the conservative party, Mr. Bennett made haste to shift his position and to state that he reserved to himself the right to differ with them when the interests of his constituency demanded. Mr. Oliver's position exactly. But how can it be? We learn from Mr. Bennett that Mr. Oliver, having accepted the nomination of a liberal convention, has "swallowed the party," that he is no longer an independent but in fact, he is pledged forever to serve the party of the liberal cause; yet Mr. Bennett, who accepted the nomination of a conservative convention reserves to himself an independent course of action. Mr. Oliver by accepting a liberal nomination is not an independent; Mr. Bennett by accepting a conservative nomination is an independent. Strange! The difference must be in the conventions. Perhaps the fact that Mr. Oliver was the unanimous choice and Mr. Bennett's only third choice of the respective conventions had something to do with it. Be that as it may, Frank Oliver's independence is scarcely a matter for question. His record speaks for itself. He was an independent last session and the session before—and he is not the man to be one thing to-day and another to-morrow.

Above and before all is the fact that Mr. Oliver occupies the extremely fortunate position of not having to be guided on matters of independence by the dictates of R. B. Bennett.

A FEATURE OF THE CAMPAIGN.

A most conspicuous feature of the present political campaign is the superfluity of untruthful assertions and the scarcity of facts, and arguments noticeable in the opposition press and on the opposition platform. Truthfulness is not a consideration. The idea is to make noise and lots of it. We read in papers here, in flaring headlines, of torchlight processions and crowds gone mad in Southern Alberta in honor of the opposition candidate. In papers from the south we learn that "The north is with Bennett," that he has carried the country, he came, he saw, he conquered. In the Calgary Herald, of the 20th, we read in scare headlines, of the triumphal procession of the young conservative candidate in the north. We, who are in the north, know how false these statements are. We know that at Parkridge Mills there was no meeting as no one came to hear Mr. Bennett; We know that at Josephburg it would have been better for him if the meeting had never been held. We know that at Whitefoot ten people turned out, and the audience was so evidently "Oliver" that Mr. Bennett lost his temper. At Agriculture Mr. Bennett held the only friendly meeting on the trip and that that was friendly was because two bus loads of supporters were brought from Fort Saskatchewan and others imported to give a semblance of success to the last meeting of the tour. We know all this, but the people of the south do not and it is as well that they should know it. The supporters of Mr. Bennett in Calgary concede a majority to Mr. Oliver in the south, but, strange to say, look for their majority in the north. Mr. Oliver's home, where he has resided for the last twenty years and where he is known as an able and honest man, and a capable and conscientious representative in the House of Commons. Cheap sensationalism panders only to a people incapable of thinking for themselves, and all the electors of Alberta have to remember is that these broad and sweeping assertions are only the natural effluence of an irresponsible press which has boiled up and bubbled over in the excess of its partizan zeal.

STIRING UP RACIAL FEELING.

Sir Charles Tupper in Quebec preached from the text, "Laurier is too English for me; He is selling Canada to England." In Ontario he says "Laurier is a French-Canadian and would sell Canada to France." Mr. Bennett, Sir Charles Tupper's candidate in Alberta, speaking at Fort Saskatchewan, condemned in metaphorical phrase Sir Wilfrid Laurier and J. I. Tarte. At Lamoureux, just across the river, a French-Canadian settlement he had no word of condemnation for Sir Wilfrid or his colleague Tarte—and in the German settlements we find him telling the electors that Sir Charles Tupper is of German extraction, and proud of it.

A LITTLE ANCIENT HISTORY.

An exchange remarks that it is worth remembering that the men who are now most loudly shouting scandal and corruption, are the men who supported and profited by

The Rykert Timber Steal,
Graving Dock Steal,
Printing Bureau Steal,
Curran Bridge Steal,
Web Basin Steal,
Section B Steal,
Tay Canal Steal,
and scores of political outrages whose revelation prior to 1895 led the St. James Gazette, London, Eng., to say that, "The existence of an organized system of corruption among public officials in Canada has been conclusively proved, and like everything else on the American continent, the bribery had been colossal."

SUPPORTS FRANK OLIVER.

The Wetaskiwin News, which has been strongly supporting the candidature of R. B. Bennett, in its issue of the 25th, yesterday, says: "We require a man who knows this country and what it wants, and Mr. Oliver is the one. We regret we did not have the chance of hearing Mr. Oliver before we had listened to his opponent Mr. Bennett, for then our views would have been very different from what they were. Farmers, now we can clearly see that Mr. Oliver is your man and you should use all your influence and votes in getting him returned."

THE POLICY OF MISREPRESENTATION.

Calgary Alberta.

Among the most significant signs of the times in the present federal campaign is the cold blooded and deliberate way in which the majority of the party newspapers appear to be conspiring to mis-report the meetings and proceedings of their opponents. Aside altogether from the question of morality, it is the worst possible policy to persistently misrepresent one's opponents and to mis-state facts; more especially when the misrepresentation is glaringly untrue as to bring conviction on itself. It is not pretended that the liberal papers are so absolutely free from the temptation of party bias that their political reports are entirely without prejudice, but to their credit the general statement may be safely made that their news columns are trustworthy and accurate. Nothing can be more encouraging to the supporters of the government as indicative of the desperate out-look for the opposition as recognized by the Tories themselves, than the systematic perversion of facts as they appear from day to day in the Tory press. We have only to read our own old Herald to get the best sample all Canada affords.

THE RAILROAD AGREEMENT.

The council met Monday night for the purpose of finally considering the terms of the agreement under which MacKenzie & Mann would take over the old Edmonton district railway charter, and commence construction and operation of the line. After consideration the agreement was passed and executed by the town. Under the new agreement the town agrees to release the original purchasers of the charter (Pugsley-McAvity and others) from all liability under their old agreement of purchase. The agreement reads that the company will, by the 1st of May 1901 commence and thereafter with all convenient speed continue and by the 1st of Oct. complete as to the running of the trains thereon, the construction of a railway from some point on the present line of the Calgary & Edmonton railway at or near Strathcona across the Saskatchewan river to some point within a mile of the present post office in the town of Edmonton. At such point the company agrees to establish a station and erect suitable and sufficient buildings for the storage of freight and the accommodation of passengers. And after the 1st of October, 1901, so long as the C. & E. is operated, the company agrees to continuously operate the said railway, Trains to run in close connection with and at least as frequently as trains on the C. & E. It is provided that in case the operation be not bona fide commenced by the 1st Oct., 1901, after three weeks notice in writing being given by the town, then all the conditions in the old agreement will be revived. The station to be maintained so long as the line is operated, that the company may at any time change the site of the station to any other site within the limits described. The town grants, so far as in its power, free right of way over the bridge, the town reserving to itself the right to grant to any other railway company concurrent rights of no greater extent. The town also grants running rights over certain streets within the town.

Mr. Moore, who left Tuesday morning, took with him copies of the agreement for execution by MacKenzie & Mann and the other parties to the agreement.

Speaking to a Protestant English-speaking audience in Northern Alberta recently the conservative candidate denounced Sir Wilfrid Laurier for making an "insidious appeal to racial and religious prejudices" by saying, during the course of a speech to a French-Canadian audience, that he was proud of his mother country. Not half an hour later the conservative candidate said "Every pro-Bor in Alberta is supporting the liberal candidate." Laurier's appeal may have been insidious, but there have been others.

WAR SUMMARY.

There is little new from the south Africa. It is now reported that A. and B. companies of the Royal Canadian Infantry (first contingent) will remain in Africa until the termination of the war, and will go home by way of England, participating in the great march past the Queen in London. Guerrilla warfare continues. Methuen had a four hours fight after the taking of Zerst. French was attacked thirty times by guerrillas while marching to Bethel from Carolina. The returning Canadians on the Idaho were entertained by the governor-general of St. Vincent, on the arrival of the transport at Cape Verde. The Idaho is expected to reach Halifax on the 1st Nov. The government has decided to celebrate the arrival of the members of D. Company, First Canadian contingent, the heroes of Paardeberg, by an illumination of the parliament buildings, Ottawa. The illumination will be by electricity and will follow the lines of the memorable illumination of "Jubilee night" in 1879. But the display will be grander than that of three years ago. It will be, in fact, the most elaborate and greatest display ever made in Canada. The public works department has already begun preparations.

Foxes, lynx, wolves and other fur-bearing animals are becoming quite numerous in this vicinity, which encourages the belief that there will be a good hunt this season. Rabbits and muskrats are again becoming plentiful. In the case of rats particularly, many marshes that have been barren for years are fairly well stocked.—Bathurst Herald.

MEETING AT OLDS

From The Alberta.

The common-sense public hall—recently built by Mr. Logan, one of Olds' enterprising citizens—was well filled with an appreciative and enthusiastic audience on Wednesday evening to hear Frank Oliver and others in the cause of the two great political parties who are asserting their claims to public confidence in the coming elections.

On the platform was Mr. Stokes and Mr. Code, chairman of the liberal and conservative committees of Olds district. Mr. Stokes presided over Mr. Oliver's interests and occupied the chair. On his right sat Mr. Oliver and James Reilly, on his left Mr. Code and Mr. P. J. Nolan, the representatives of Mr. Bennett.

On rising to speak Mr. Oliver received a cordial and enthusiastic reception and in his careful and convincing style called the attention of the electors to the great change which attracted the notice of all to the wonderful growth and development of the country during the last four years, in few places more markedly than in their own rapidly growing town of Olds. Our opponents, said Mr. Oliver, claimed that the liberal party are not entitled to any claim for this because other places are prospering. Well, our party do not claim all the glory of this sunshine of the past four years, but we claim that they ought to be able to point out similar streaks of sunshine during the long 18 years when they administered the government of this same country. They had their national policy and they quit amidst deficits, disintegration, poverty and dissatisfaction both far and wide. We had a sensible and practical policy that revived our great dairy industry, in Alberta, we removed hindering restrictions in cattle quarantine and increased our foreign markets with an enormous profit to our people. We built the Crow's Nest railway and brought the great consuming markets of British Columbia to our very doors, increasing thereby not only the value of our products, but also our national revenues, so as to cover several times over the interest on the monies employed in building this most useful of railways. Mr. Oliver continued for the hour allotted to him in this explanatory strain and sat down with a friendly round of applause.

Mr. Nolan on rising was well received and proceeded to quote from Sir Richard Cartwright's famous assertion of the unalienable right of Canadian freemen to vote for and in support of their patriotic convictions independent of any party. As this was good music for the independent stalwart—our stand like stone walls behind Frank Oliver—the quotation was heartily received. This was a surprise to Mr. Nolan and he dropped the Cartwright theme and took up the same cowbell that was rattled so vigorously by Mr. Bennett at Calgary at his meeting of acceptance. The poor national debt, the per capita tax of $7.88 per head, the extravagance of the Crow's Nest railway, the fact that people had to pay more for goods in the stores now than during the conservative period, this all repeated whine of fault finding did not meet with response from the electors and Mr. Nolan's slender flask of political information split out its last drop, without exposing a solitary shingle nail of political reform promised by his party, whereas even an Indian papoose could hang its moccasins.

Mr. Reilly on rising received a cordial greeting and said it was a pleasant task to remember back over four years and mark the life and apparent vigor of the building and business of the town of Olds. That four years ago he came there to ask their votes and confidence on credit for Mr. Oliver and he now came to ask them to consider what his record was as the independent personification of a true representative of Alberta's interests and to ask them now to render to Caesar what was due to him. He next referred to Mr. Nolan's complaint of the per capita tax of $7.88 per head. He might have told you said Mr. Reilly, that under his party it was over $8 per head in 1896, and he rounded his remarks by saying while he believed the present government of prosperity would be sustained, yet independent of all this, the electors of Alberta would not and could not afford to exchange their tried and experienced member for practically speaking, the political school-boy who represented the minority of this riding in the assembly for two short terms. After ten years of silence, corruption and shame in our representation in the house of commons our credit and respect had been redeemed by the vigorous and independent voice of Frank Oliver battling against all measures that clashed with the interests of his constituents of every political creed.

Mr. Oliver closing the debate was in the best of form—he generally is in reply. He said his greatest weariness arose from the fact that his opponents give him nothing to answer. Oh, yes! there was the Crow's Nest matter. Well, yes, we did give them $11,000 a mile in cash for building a road through the Rocky Mountains, and the conservative party gave the C. & E. Railway Company for building a road on level prairie past our doors, 6400 acres of land per mile and a postal subsidy of over two thousand a mile. Land is worth $3 per acre, or in all about $21,000 per mile and left the grant of land in so slippish a state that you cannot get a dollar out of them for your roads or schools. I will now leave you, ladies and gentlemen, to judge which is the party of extravagance and folly. A ringing blast of applause was the reward of that knock out blow. Our party, said the member for Alberta, is the party who are engaged in solving problems in the interests of the common people. Their party was engaged in guarding and shielding the investments of corporations and combines. My mission is to ask you for a renewal of your confidence and your vote to enable me to continue the work we have so successfully begun for the advancement and prosperity of our country.

A hearty and appreciative round of cheering was given the member at the close of his vigorous speech and his gallant reference to the large number of ladies who honored him by being present groups of the electors gathered around the member after the meeting, many introductions were given and, judging from smiles and handshakes, every woman left the hall an "Oliver-man"; and many of the prominent ones were heard to remark that "Oliver made a good and understandable speech." There was also friendly notice taken of "P. J." and the boys laughed at his jokes and acted as if they wished they had his rosy and jovial personality more frequently at Olds.

LEDUC

A political meeting in the interests of the candidature of Mr. Frank Oliver was held in Leduc on Thursday evening last. R. T. Telford, presided as chairman. The Leduc hall was well filled by a large and intelligent audience. P. J. Nolan, of Calgary, appeared on behalf of the candidature of Mr. Bennett.

In Mr. Oliver's address he drew attention to the essential differences between the principles and policies of the two great political parties in Canada, a difference which began with the struggle for the establishment of responsible government, and continued down to the present day. The one party was always arrayed on the side of class, and privilege and monopoly, and the other was as constantly on the side of the people at large against such legislation and administration. These general principles had been acted on in the Northwest. The history of the Northwest under the administration which is represented by the present opposition told of encouragement to land grabbers and discouragement to settlers, of the establishment of railway monopoly, and ignoring the rights of the people, of unjust discriminations under the manufacturer and against the settler of the Northwest. Under that administration the Northwest had been stagnant. Today we had a condition of progress in the Northwest because the settler and the farmer had taken advantage of the market so created; a system of cold storage transportation between Canada and Britain was established; and the British preference was given in the tariff. The results were that Alberta's products were in first demand both in Kensington and Britain as a direct result of the active and judicious policy of the government; as contrasted with the depressed conditions which prevailed under the former administration; whose attention was concentrated on advantaging the eastern manufacturer and the western railroad and land grabbers instead of taking care of the interests of the settler. He drew attention to the attempt which was clearly in prospect to continue indefinitely the exemption from taxation now enjoyed by the C. P. R. on its land grant. This exemption meant that each owner of a quarter section was paying from three to five dollars yearly that after next February should be paid by the C. P. R. The issue between himself and his opponent was clear out on this point. He held that parliament should protect the interests of the people by enforcing the terms of the bargain. His opponent had declared from every platform that there was no case to go before parliament; that there was only a case for the courts. The people then must decide first whether they wanted the question dealt with, and second whether they wanted it dealt with in parliament or in the courts.

MR. OLIVER'S SERVICES.

Alberta.

The electors of Alberta, who sent Frank Oliver to Ottawa in 1896 and who have now to determine whether it is to go a second time or not will find it very difficult to discover any reason why he should not be again returned. There is no man in Alberta today who can say that he has failed in his duty as a representative of the people. There is no man, but must be forced to admit that he has completely fulfilled the expectations of those who elected him in 1896. He has been for 21 years a servant of the people. He has attended to their every want with diligence, honesty and ability. Every request has been made of him, every grievance that has been brought to his notice has received his prompt energetic and careful attention. There are hundreds of ranchers and farmers in Alberta to-day who can testify to his unflinching care, his ready sympathy and his eagerness and anxiety to remove their difficulties as far as it was in his power to do so. There is no single man who can accuse him of carelessness, neglect or partiality. Everywhere and always he has been at the service of his constituents. He has spoken out firmly and decisively on every occasion of necessity in defence of the interests of the people of the west. He has risked the good will of his political friends by disagreeing with and voting against the government when he conceived it to be his duty to do so and although we cannot admit that in every such instance he was right yet we must insist that he has proven his independence of thought and action beyond all possible doubt. The only appeal that is made against him is one that can reach bitter partisans and bitter partisans alone. And leaving aside the question of the merits of the government it must surely be plain to every elector that if he votes against Frank Oliver he is forgetting the duty that he owes to his country, the duty of encouraging and supporting every true and honest, capable and independent public man who has done his whole duty to his country and his constituents.

WESTERNERS RETURNING.

Three more Canadians from South Africa, who went out in the second contingent, returned to the west by Thursday's express. These were Pte. T. A. George, of the R. C. D's Pte. C. J. Meade, of Pincher Creek, and Pte. Rohrborn of Grenfell; Pte. George has little good to say of the country over which Paul Kruger has been ruling. The climate is not at all a pleasant one. Of the fighting, Pte. George has little to say, as he was taken down by the fever and rheumatism at De Aar and was left behind at that place. He has now recovered his usual health. Pte. Meade was at Bloemfontein and Pretoria, but fell a victim to the fever that has played havoc with the British soldiers. Pte. Rohrborn, who also went out under Col. Harembach with the C. M. R., was taken with enteric fever.

ANOTHER CHILD LOST AND FOUND.

The Prince Albert Advocate reports the following incident: Robbie Clement, three years old, whose mother lives in town and his father in Dawson, wandered away on the morning of October 10th, unnoticed, and when missed could not be found. Mrs. Clements and as many as she had enquired of kept up a promiscuous search till noon. By that time nearly everybody knew and an organized search was begun under the superintendence of the Rev. Mr. Barner and Messrs. Copeland and Watson. The latter sent out the school children in twos and threes diverging from the town and adults of both sexes singly told the rest of the ground, while three men on horseback kept them all in touch, and examined every bank, bush and hollow. The excitement and anxiety was intense, till after two o'clock when the welcome signal of success recalled all hands. A trio of the younger school children Pearl Lake, Victoria Stephenson and Guy Irwin, were fortunate in being in the right direction and found the little fellow three-quarters of a mile away standing in a slough up to his waist in the cold water, chilled and shivering, but brave to the last. When his rescuers were near enough to attract his notice, he said, "Take me up, I fall down," and he would soon have fallen down, never to rise again, for he was completely chilled and could have made little more effort among the tangled grass and water. One slip or stagger would have brought him down into the water and nothing could then have saved him from drowning. The little fellow was rescued and carried home and after a sleep seemed none the worse for his experience.

MURDER OF DANDO.

Of the murder of A. R. E. O. Dando, at one time of Edmonton, the Kamloops Sentinel says: A. Dando was shot through the heart at Golden Saturday morning, and F. Collins is under arrest charged with the murder. Dando, while on a spree, got into trouble with Collins by doing some damage to a house, and Collins went to get a warrant for his arrest, but was told to return in an hour. Instead of this he went to the Hotel Delphaine, where he found Dando in bed, and as he entered the room exclaimed: "It's all off with your brains." Immediately after he fired two shots, one of them penetrating Dando's heart, killing him instantly. Dando was formerly a member of the Northwest Mounted Police. Collins is a rascal by trade, and for some time lived in Vancouver.

TOWN COUNCIL.

The council met Tuesday evening. All present except Coun. Goshbridge. Communication of I. S. Cowan, re taxes on property lately owned by La Banque Jacques Cartier, was referred to solicitor and sec-treas. for settlement.

Thos. Anthony's letter re poll tax was filed.

P. Heimick wrote that he had about completed arrangements for securing some of the property required by the town in connection with their market side, and asking the town to aid him in financing the purchase. Communication was referred to finance committee with power to act.

G. W. Wood's letter re debentures was filed.

T. A. Stephen forwarded his report as auditor, to end of September, enclosing statement of municipal receipts and expenditures. Filed.

W. S. Robertson, manager of the Robertson Hall, forwarded a strong request for the abolition of the license fee on hall attractions. Mr. Robertson pointed out that the idea that visiting companies take money out of the town was pretty well exploded. Not one out of every ten companies which reach Calgary are willing to take chances on a 200 mile jump north. They will not come at all and pay hall rent and license fee. In order to have any attractions here it is necessary to play them on percentage, and the hall manager pay license fee. In the case of the Clarn Mathes Co. he did so and after paying the license fee, $35.00, he had 45c. left for hall rent for seven nights. Mr. Robertson pointed out that the license did not operate as a license for revenue, but as a prohibitive tax. Owing to the town's present isolated position it kept companies away. As the paid taxes, $90, and hall license, $10, every year, it was necessary that he should have some attractions in the hall or else lose money. He also asked for a refund of the license paid by him, $35.00. The council referred the matter to the license and police committee for report next meeting.

Donald Ross asked that steps be erected on the pathway at the corner of M. McCauley's property. Referred to board of works with power to act.

Jas. McDonald, secretary public hospital, thanked the council for the construction of sidewalk asked for by that institution. Filed.

Letter of Father Leduc stating that the mission would build a new sidewalk to replace that taken up from in front of the new church, was filed.

Petition for grading of road between blocks 17 and 18, was laid on the table until next meeting.

Tenders will be called for at once for the construction of six foot sidewalks from the site of the new Presbyterian church to the next corner south, and for an extension of the present main street walk from the Robertson hall east to G. Berg's property.

Instructions were given to credit all firemen with the amount of their toll taxes.

By-law 200, a by-law respecting a vacancy on the council board, was read three times and finally passed. The vacancy is caused by the illness of Coun. Strang. Nominations will be held in the council chamber on the 9th Nov., and in the event of a roll being necessary, voting will take place at the same place on the 16th Nov.

Tenders for additional sidewalk at public hospital were read from Wm. Deyl, Jas. McDonald, Donald McCallum, and A. McCauley. The tender of Jas. McDonald, $1,312.50, for walk and 38s. for crossings, was accepted.

Re site for court house and coal bin, Brown stated that P. Heimick was prepared to give the council an option on suitable property, and was to have had plans before them at the meeting. As Mr. Heimick was not present the matter was left in abeyance.

The following accounts were passed: Jas. McDonald sidewalk, contract, $325.54

Pay sheet, street labor, 87.25

Steel & Strang, hardware, 14.55

Ross Bros, engineers sundries, 1.00

T. A. Stephen, auditing, 37.50

John Hall, lumber, 16.32

The meeting then adjourned.

LETTER FROM TROOPER WILKIE.

Wm. Wilkie, now with the C. M. B. has written to Wm. Macdonnell of Wetaskiwin. The letter is reproduced in the News. It says we have seen all the fighting now we want, having been in four big general engagements and five or six smaller fights not taking into consideration the small skirmishes and being killed at when out on patrol. We are with Gen. Hutton and French and have done most of our fighting in conjunction with the latter, who, in my opinion is one of the most good ahead generals in the British army at the front. It is he who does the first of the fighting in all the engagements, having all his men mounted. It is a grand sight to see the Royal Horse Artillery going into action as soon as the enemy's position is discovered. How accurately they can burst their shells just where they want them. I have had all the shells I want bursting round me. At Clipperville I lost my horse and was upon a small kopje for about three hours with two of our pom-poms. It was a hot time I can tell you. One had to make himself as scarce as possible. Gen. French paid the western men a very high compliment for the way in which they conducted themselves that day.

STAR.

Threshing has already started in this neighborhood, and the yield is much better than was expected. Much of the grain is, however, damaged by the rain and snow.

James McElreid met with a painful accident a few days ago while riding on horseback. His horse stumbled throwing him off and breaking his arm between the wrist and elbow. Dr. Aylen set the fractured limb and he is doing as well as could be expected. We are sorry for Jim, he is a good fellow and deserves better luck.

Carlos Magee and Alfred Gray, of this neighborhood, leave for Strathcona in a few days. They are going into the livery and feed business, having rented the stables now occupied by Garbe Bros. We wish them success in their enterprise.

Miss McCallum, our teacher, returned this evening from Edmonton where she has been attending the teachers' convention.

Mr. Bennett, conservative candidate, accompanied by J. W. Shera, M. L. A., paid Star a visit last evening where Mr. Bennett was bidden to address the electors. Mr. Boyle was present in the interests of Mr. Oliver, and the result was a good meeting.

Oct. 17th, '00.

OBITUARY.

The following notice appears in the Winnipeg Free Press. The deceased is the youngest brother of Mr. D. S. McKay, of Edmonton.

"There are many friends of the subject of this notice in Winnipeg and surrounding municipalities who will regret to hear of the death of Mr. Gilbert McKay, a highly respected farmer of Milbrook, near Springfield, who died at the house of Mr. Verinder, corner of Alexander avenue and Stanley street, on Sunday evening. Mr. McKay was one of the oldest residents of the province, having come here in 1874 with the 'Third Expedition' (military) over the Dawson route from the County of Grey, Ontario. For nearly the whole period of his three years' service he occupied the position of brigadier-sergeant in the brigade of the 1st. Col. W. Osborne Smith, D. A. G., and after his discharge, settled in Springfield, where he held the position of postmaster. He has filled important positions in the community, having been municipal auditor and councilor for a number of years. He was also an elder in the Presbyterian church in his locality. A kind husband and father, a kind, obliging neighbor; his loss will be severely felt by the whole community."

OUR DAILY GOODS AT PARIS.

The great success which has attended the Canadian butter and cheese exhibit at the Paris exhibition is most gratifying to the people of the Dominion. It is evidence that the efforts of recent years to raise the quality of our dairy products have not been made in vain. The Canadian exhibit has taken the highest possible honor, the grand prize, with a maximum number of points. Other grand prizes were awarded in this class but none of them were accompanied by the maximum rating. As a result of the award to Canada a leading French gourmet has placed an order for a trial shipment of cheese. A feature of the display which will help greatly to advertise the quality of the Canadian goods in France and elsewhere was the practice of giving away samples to all who cared to taste the cheese. This was not followed by any other exhibit and was highly appreciated by the crowds.—Commercial.

A season in which eastern manufacturers are obliged to inform the management of the Toronto exhibition that the rush of business prevents the manufacture of articles for exhibition purposes is not the most opportune time for Sir Chas. Tupper to mourn beforehand the decrease of Canadian industries from the poisonous influences of the grip tariff.

The conservative contention that the removal of the import duty on binder twine has increased the price of twine is nearly as reasonable as the contention that the removal of a dam caused the drying up of a stream whose source had failed.

To hand is the prospectus of a company recently formed with head office in Toronto for the publication of a weekly newspaper to be called "The Century Christian." The object of the paper is thus set forth: "This paper will be published first as a weekly, under the title of 'The Century Christian,' it will fill a place not occupied by any other journal, so that it will come into competition with no paper now published. Nor will it be the rival of other Christian papers, but on the contrary, be a helper in the good work now being 'done by them.' The company has an authorized capital of $75,000, in shares of $50 each.

FRANK OLIVER THE MAN.

Wetaskiwin News.

Mr. Oliver's meeting in Wetaskiwin on Friday evening was a great success. The attendance was far in excess of any previous political gathering, and the results were equally satisfactory. Mr. Oliver's trenchant and logical analysis of the assertions and arguments of his opponents, and his clear and explicit elucidation of the actions and intentions of the government and of his own course of action in connection with all those questions which more particularly interested his constituents, did not fail to carry conviction to all unbiased minds, that he, and the great liberal party, to which he has given in the past and to which he will still give a discriminating and judicious support, have during the last four years, to the limit of their abilities, done their best to attain and assure the well being and prosperity of the whole country. Faithful to their promises, so far as any body of representatives could do, they have striven for the public good and so deserve a continuance of the confidence and support of the voters of the whole country. So far as Mr. Oliver is concerned, he has acquitted himself as a man of integrity of words and of purpose. His chief characteristics being fearlessness, fearlessness and pertinacity. True to his promises, he has not hesitated to oppose where opposition has to him appeared to be in the interests of the country at large or of the Northwest in particular. Pertinaciousness to the limit of resistance, he has stuck to his point in the interests of his constituents when he knew he was in the right, and when he had any object in view which he considered of more than usual importance, he has, in spite of opposition and regardless of odium and continually related again and again to the charge until either successful in his efforts, or overwhelmed by the sheer weight and number of his opponents. Honest in intention, faithful in carrying out the rights calculated to help on the interests of Alberta, he has proved himself by his actions in the past to be a reliable representative, and as such deserves our sympathetic and enthusiastic support.

Over four years ago, we sent Mr. Oliver to Ottawa accepting him as a believing him to be honest, trustworthy and reliable; during the four years which have elapsed, he has done nothing to forfeit our confidence or to cause any change in our opinion as to his fitness, his ability, or his reliability, and he has done much to strengthen our faith in him and to satisfy us that he has the prosperity and progress of Alberta ever in view and that he is at all times ready to fight our battles and to guard our interests. He has kept his promises, he has more than fulfilled our anticipations, he has justified the trust reposed in him and it is the bounden duty of all who have the best interests of this great western country at heart to return him to parliament by such a majority as will satisfy our opponents that we appreciate to the full the services he has rendered us.

LA PRESSE'S ADMISION.

The following is the statement of the La Presse correspondent on the political situation in Ontario.

La Presse is conservative and has an enormous circulation among the French-Canadians.

"Toronto, the old Tory city, is absolutely transformed. It is well to say so, and not to allow our friends to wait in vain on unrealistic hopes. From what I can learn there will be no change of figures in Ontario. The liberals will keep a majority of 10 to 15. That is the position. It is useless to beat about the bush. The conservatives are reduced to telling us 'We rely on a movement in Quebec.' 'Where is a movement in Quebec? When down there they laugh and tell us, 'Ontario is going to rise in arms.' Ontario is not rising, and will not rise. The general wave of prosperity is against the conservatives. It is against the conservatives, even liberal. The conservatives have still a chance of winning—that is, by capturing Quebec. They ought to be able, since they say they can, and their friends in Toronto firmly believe it, and have full confidence in their ability to do so. But if they believe me, let them not count on Ontario. Ontario will be Liberal."

MAN LOST.

Ponoka Herald, October 16th: Joe Harrison, a young rancher near Buffalo lake was lost whilst hunting cattle in the storm three weeks ago. Search parties have been scouring the country, but up to going to press no trace of the unfortunate man and his horse has been found.

Winnipeg Tribune. The next Dominion census will be taken within a year. A redistribution of the number of seats allotted to each province must follow. What population the west will be found to have it is difficult to say. A not extravagant estimate might place it at 600,000.

200,000 for Manitoba, 175,000 for the Territories and 125,000 for British Columbia. On that basis there would be at least 30 members of the House of Commons elected west of Rat Portage, or about half as many again as Nova Scotia—enough to make a difference of 60 in a division.
